

Congratulations Edwin!

Edwin Reyes made his amateur debut in unprecedented fashion on July 3, when he won the novice division of the 112-pound weight category at the 2009 Title Championships. The event was held in Holly Springs, Mississippi, drawing hundreds of amateur boxers from around the country. Reyes defeated his opponent in just three rounds, when the referee stopped the contest after a barrage of strong punches from Reyes.

Reyes was cornered by Justin Gamber, who's been his primary coach since Reyes found BRC. When asked about the match, Gamber said, "This is just the beginning for Edwin. He's the perfect example that you get out of boxing what you put into it. I'm proud of Edwin."

Reyes has a tremendous work ethic in the gym. He trains 3-5 days each week, completes running workouts, listens to coaches, and takes every opportunity to spar and drill.

Congratulations to Edwin Reyes, on his first win, and his first belt!
